

Catherine Orrantia.....potter

Born and raised in Minnesota, Catherine's talent comes naturally from a family with roots in art as well as music. She relocated to Southern California as a young girl where she lived until 2003 when Oro Valley, Arizona became her home.

Fueled by a love of art and working in two dimensions, she began her artistic journey while still in California but it was after her move to the Tucson area that she committed to being a full time artist. At this point Catherine began her three dimensional work. Pottery became her passion and remains her main focus. Her work can be seen in various Arizona galleries as well as Tohono Chul Park, JW Marriott Starr Pass Resort, Ritz Carlton Dove Mountain, Old Town Artisans Pot Shop and Desert Botanical Gardens.

This young artist, Catherine Orrantia, has secured her place as a "Treasure of Tucson"!
